

Company, 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor Regiment, 3rd Infantry Division, based at Fort Benning, GA.

Rick's father Richard remembers his son as "a great kid." He also recalls the commitment Rick displayed in always trying to do his best. Rick graduated in 2000. "He was really proud of that," his father recalls.

During Rick's funeral, BG Tod Carmony, the deputy commander for the 38th Infantry Division, remarked upon the courage Rick displayed by enlisting in the Army after the 9/11 attacks. Rick knew it was wartime, and he knew the risks that he would be running. But, he enlisted anyway. This is what Brigadier General Carmony said about Rick:

He understood that we have no choice but to win this global war on terrorism if his family, his community, and his country are to be safe. So Richard put himself on the line, and he died trying to keep that promise of safety to his family and country.

Brigadier General Carmony also noted that Rick was an expert with a carbine and a qualified Bradley gunner. According to the Brigadier General, this "is quite an accomplishment."

Rick's father remembers that his son was proud of his role in the military and took the dangers of it in stride. He said, "Rick didn't mind at all. It was a job—that's the way he looked at it."

Indeed, the Army was a job that Rick did exceedingly well. When he died, he was on his second tour of duty in Iraq. And according to his father, Rick had been sent back because the Iraq elections were approaching and they "wanted some guys with experience in the country."

Well, Rick was a guy with experience—and he used that experience to help further the goal of democracy in Iraq. In fact, the day Rick died was also the day that millions of Iraqis braved death to vote for their new constitution.

As Brigadier General Carmony put it, "By being there, Richard gave the Iraqi people a chance to move a step closer to freedom and democracy."

Rick was scheduled to return home in December 2005. According to his father, he was going to take some time off to relax and then planned on getting a job as a welder.

Those who knew best Rick remember that his favorite pastime was riding dirt bikes. His father owns about 6 acres of land, and Rick simply loved riding all over it. "He was all over the place," his dad recalls.

Rick also loved barbecue—steaks and ribs. His father said that Rick had to have a barbecue every time he came home. According to his dad, Rick "said it beat the MREs—[that] there was nothing like a home-cooked meal."

These barbecues were one of the many things Rick loved. He enjoyed life, and he especially enjoyed the simple things—like coming home to eat a good meal with his family.

Specialist Hardy was a courageous soldier—a true hero, who always stood on the front lines. His Internet tribute Web page continues to be filled daily by family and friends with messages that serve as a living testament to Rick's legacy. Rick had many people who loved him.

His Aunt "Debbers" posted the following message on the tribute Web site. This is what she wrote:

Ricky! You were supposed to come home alive and well! I guess God had other plans. You are so loved and missed. I know you didn't want to be forgotten, but this wasn't the way we wanted to remember you. May you at last find peace. You will always be remembered, especially at the family barbecues.

God bless you for what you have ultimately paid the price for—our freedom. Give Gram a hug and kiss. All our love to you.

Rick's Aunt Sandra posted this message:

To my nephew—you will be missed greatly, and we love you. We are also very proud of you and all of your comrades who are fighting this war. God bless all of you.

Rick's body was laid to rest with full military honors at St. Stephen's Catholic Cemetery in Bolivar. For his brave actions, Rick was posthumously awarded a Bronze Star and a Purple Heart. During his career with the Army, he was also the recipient of the Army Good Conduct Medal, National Defense Service Medal, Iraqi Campaign Medal, Global War on Terrorism Service Medal, Army Service Ribbon, Combat Infantryman's Badge, and the Weapons Qualification Badge.

The world is a better place since Rick Hardy has been in it. A young man with courage and a sense of adventure, Rick was the model of what we all hope our children will become.

My wife Fran and I will continue to keep Rick's father and step-mother, Richard and Jody, his mother Doris; and his sisters Kristy and Jessica in our thoughts and in our prayers.

Mr. President, I suggest the absence of a quorum.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will call the roll.

The assistant legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. ISAKSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be dispensed with.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

SENATOR MIKE DEWINE

Mr. ISAKSON. Mr. President, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the Senator from Ohio for allowing me to intercede for a few moments. Since he is on the Senate floor and he has been so gracious as to give me this time—I did not come to the floor and will not talk long about Senator DEWINE, but since he is on the Senate floor and gave me the time, I wanted to express to him my grateful appreciation for his service to the Senate, not just the people of Ohio but the people of this great country.

One of the great joys I have had as a Member of the Senate, having been elected 2 years ago, was to serve on the Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions Committee with Senator DEWINE. One of my great joys I had early on as a Member of this body was to watch him join the Gang of 14 and break the logjams, allowing us to confirm Supreme Court Justices Alito and Roberts. I worked closely with him on the pensions bill. Time and again, I saw his tireless effort on behalf of the best interests of this country and in particular always the best interests of the people of Ohio.

To Senator DEWINE, not to pander because of his graciousness in giving me the time but for giving me the unique chance to express that, we are all very grateful.

DELTA AIRLINES

Mr. ISAKSON. Mr. President, I rise for a moment in morning business to address an issue that to some may appear only to affect the State of Georgia and maybe even in particular the city of Atlanta. But in practice, I say to the distinguished Senator from Utah who is in the chair and others, this is an issue of major import to the United States of America.

An offer has been tendered for the purchase of Delta Airlines. Delta Airlines is a great American carrier that, like most airlines, has gone through terribly difficult times post-9/11. Delta went into bankruptcy. Delta has worked hard in bankruptcy to develop a plan to exit bankruptcy as a healthy, thriving, and dominate company. To Delta's eternal credit, their management committed from the beginning that they would honor and preserve the pension plans of their employees were we able in the U.S. Congress to modernize the pension laws in this country to allow them to do so.

Thanks in no small measures to yourself, Mr. President, and to Senator HATCH as well and the 97 Members of this body, the pension modernization bill passed. We put in specific provisions for the aviation industry, and great airlines and their employees now will be able to earn their pensions and not have them dispensed with because we addressed that crisis, and more importantly Delta Airlines' management has worked to reduce its costs, and its employees have voluntarily taken pay cuts. They have modernized their fleet. They have repositioned their fleet. They have opened international marketplaces that never before were available to people in this country. They have paid the heavy price that only in the great American free-enterprise system are you able to do where you take the problems and adversity and turn them into opportunities.

Now on the doorstep of exiting bankruptcy and filing that petition, a hostile takeover has been made to purchase that great airline.

Before I came to the Senate, I was in business. Nobody understands buying and selling companies and opportunities better than I, and no one would
